

Employees' commitment is key : Dr. Mahajan

In his first interaction meeting with the officials of NCUI, Dr. Sudhir Mahajan, IAS (Retd), new Chief Executive of NCUI encouraged the employees to show their full commitment and put in their best efforts for the growth of the organization on a daily basis so that they can derive optimum satisfaction from their work. Introducing himself, he said that in his long career, he handled multiple responsibilities in the past. He said that the subject of cooperatives is not new to him, as he had a brief stint with the Cooperative Department, when he was Secretary to the Cooperative Minister in the Govt. of Delhi. Dr. Mahajan emphasized on the need for the employees to have clear-cut planning for various activities and programmes so that they can achieve their targets within one year. He also laid stress on the need for formulating a rotational policy for the employees of NCUI.

All the officers/staff of NCUI in the meeting briefly introduced themselves by pointing out their functional responsibilities. The meeting ended with NCUI Chief Executive emphasizing on the need for organizing divisional/coordination meeting regularly to improve the functioning of NCUI.
